Day 1 - Gnome Favor Box Tutorial

Designed By: Debbie Naylor

Do you need a cute little favor box to fill with treats or other small gifts? This one is super quick and easy to make. Best of all, you can get two favor boxes from a single 12" x 12" sheet of DSP with plenty left over to make a card or two. You can also make these with card stock – you will also get two favor boxes from a single 8-1/2" x 11" sheet. The completed favor box is 4"H x 2"W x 2"D. Have fun with these!!

Step 1

Using the scoring blade on the trimmer, score (green dotted lines) the short side of the DSP at 1-1/4". Rotate the DSP once and score at 2", 4", 6" and 8" on the long side of the DSP.

Step 2

Next, you'll need to cut (blue lines) the flaps for the bottom of the favor box. Cut at 2", 4", 6" and 8" up to the 1-1/4" scored line. Cut away the small tab in blue.

Step 3

To assemble the box, make sure you fold all sides on the scored lines, including the bottom piece. Glue the skinny tab on the outside flap and adhere it to the left edge to enclose the box. It should now look like a rectangular tube.

Step 4

To complete the box, use the liquid glue on three of the bottom flaps on the outside edge only (be careful not to use too much liquid glue so it doesn't seep out!). Add a little bit of liquid glue to the underside of the final flap.

Step 5

To close the top of the box, figure out which side you want to be the front and then pinch the sides in and bring the back and front of the box together. Use a mini hole punch to punch two holes in the top side by side.

Step 6

For the embellishment, use the Memento ink and the gnome image from the set with the snowflake hat to stamp in the center of the whisper white card stock piece. Use both of the Balmy Blue stampin' blends to color his hat and the Light Smoky Slate stampin' blend for the bell on top. The Ivory stampin' blend was used for the face, nose and hands. The Light Crumb Cake stampin' blend was used sparingly for the beard and Dark Night of Navy stampin' blend was used to color the boots.

Step 7

Cut out the colored image using the Everyday Label punch. Attach to front of favor box using stampin' dimensionals.

Step 8

Fill your new favor box with whatever small gift you like! Some ideas include individually wrapped chocolates/candies, jewelry, or cash. Once filled, thread your ribbon through to tie it shut.
